I don't know where such certainty comes from-the brave flesh
or the theater of the mind-but if I had to guess I would say that only what the soul is supposed to be could send us forth

with such cheer
as even the leaf must wear as it unfurls
its fragrant body, and shines against the hard possibility of stoppage-which, day after day, before such brisk, corpuscular belief, shudders, and gives way.

THE INVITATION AND PEACE

OFFERTORY HYMN Light's glittering morn Lasst uns Erfreuen (217)

The congregation remains seated for this hymn as the offering is collected and stands as it is being brought forward.

Light's glittering morn bedecks the sky;
heaven thunders forth its victor-cry; O praise him, alleluia!
the glad earth shouts her triumph high,
and groaning hell makes wild reply, Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!

while he, the King, the mighty King, despoiling death of all its sting, O praise him, alleluia!
and trampling down the powers of night brings forth his ransomed souls to light. Alleluia...

His tomb of late the threefold guard of watch and stone and seal had barred; O praise him, alleluia!

An angel robed in light hath said,
"The Lord is risen from the dead." Alleluia...

From every weapon death can wield thine own redeemed for ever shield: O praise him, alleluia!
O Lord of all, with us abide in this our joyful Eastertide. Alleluia...
